DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-25 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 and 4-25 are drawn to compound of formula I shown in claim 1 wherein Y and Z both nitrogen and X is CH, namely pyrimidine compound, composition and method of use, classified in class 544, subclasses 301, 303, 309, 323 etc., class 514, subclasses 256, 269, 272, 274, 275 depending upon the choice of substituents in the pyrimidine ring.
- II. Claims 1-3, 5-8 and 10-25 are drawn to compound of formula shown in claim 1 wherein X is CH or C-CF₃, Z is CH and Y is nitrogen, namely pyridine compound, composition and method of use classified in class 546, subclass 193, 268.1, class 514, subclasses 317, 336, class 544, subclass 252.13 etc. depending upon the choice of substituents in the pyridine ring.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Invention I and II are independent and distinct from each other because they are directed to structurally dissimilar compounds that lack common core namely pyrimidino versus isomeric pyridines or piperazine or piperidone depending upon the choice of R₁ and R₂. Consequently, the groups have different classifications and require separate prior art searches. They can be made and used independently. Art, which may render obvious or anticipate one of the groups would not necessarily do the same for the other group as evidenced by the references cited in the Information Disclosure Statement. Each can support a patent, as the compounds of each group are capable of being utilized alone not in combination with other members listed in the Markush group.

Furthermore, it is mandatory to classify and search the entire heterocyclic cores that are controlling and with limited available per case, it would be a serious search burden to search all these heterocyclic cores.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: pyrimidine, and pyridine or piperazine or piperidine species. See claim 9.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1-8 and 10-25 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephonic restriction requirement request to Jeffery His and Cathy McCardri on 4/12/2005 did not result in an election as the application has been transferred to another attorney. Hence, upon further consideration, and in view of distinct nature of each invention, the restriction is set forth in writing.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
